Christmas Letter 2019

Dear Friends,

It's already December, and we find ourselves celebrating another Christmas season. This year has gone by so fast, where did all the time go? Looking back, 2019 has had its' shares of ups and downs. Business-wise, for us, web development and internet markeing has been blessed...Politically, it seems like Americans are in a state of disharmony; corruption and mistrust abound. With conflicting information from the media, we don't know who to listen to. It's hard to trust our elected officials, politicians, and sometimes, even our friends. Abraham Lincoln once told us that a house divided against itself cannot stand. Whatever political view you have, as a nation, with God's guidance, we need to work together, we should agree to disagree, and at the same time respect our fellow Americans' views.

Christmas is a season of celebration, we celebrate the birth of our Savior and King. Our world can be falling apart, but be assured, that because of the love of our God, and the birth of His Son Jesus, through faith, things will be alright.

To our friends we thank you for your friendship, to our customers, we thank you for your business, and to our vendors, we thank you for your support and knowledge. We thank our associates for their devotion to accomplishing the missions of our clients. We value our relationships and pray for peace, prosperity, and harmony in the upcoming year.

"Keep politics and religion out of business," is the standard refrain we've all heard many times. We believe we can include both in a business blog post without being the least bit antagonistic or divisive. We wish all a Merry Christmas and celebrate the holiday, without diminishing the rights or beliefs of others. We trust in our democracy without being polarizing. We all share the blessings of liberty, called for in the preamble to our constitution. More unites us than divides us. We thank you our friends at W. Haut Specialty Co., Inc. for permission to repurpose this Christmas Letter from their original post. We believe that healthy conversation is good for all of us.

Sincerely,

On behalf of all of us at OnYourMark, LLC
