

Email Services

Email is critical in today's fast paced economy and your ability to quickly access email from anywhere is a must. We support the most commonly used protocols for sending and receiving email, including IMAP, POP, and SMTP protocols. We also give you the ability to utilize an intuitive webmail interface to check your email from anywhere you have access to a web browser! So whether you are checking your email from your desktop, laptop, or cell phone it will be available to you.

If you would like to manage your own email server, check out the advantages of our colocation services.
